

Imagine that you have a Sprint Cell phone, you are unable to call Vonage or Qwest cell phone users because they are of separate network? Unable to call each other by phone numbers but having to resort to "text messaging" to reach one another.

That is the same thing that we are experiencing by being unable to call another videophone brand or relay provider.